

Dinner with Stan Peterson and Buehler Vineyards

Stan Peterson is a world barbecue champion and two-time national barbecue champion, whose food was called by The Wine Spectator's Jim Laube “easily the best barbecue I'd ever had.” In 2009, Stan was invited to cook for President Obama at the National Barbecue Championship. For this lot, Stan will use his smoke-and-fire prowess to prepare for you a barbecue dinner beyond compare at his Chiles Valley home. Grab a coveted seat at the table and dine like the Commander in Chief!

Upon arrival, you will be greeted with a glass of wine to enjoy as you tour Stan's private Chiles Valley caves, filled with his collection of fine wines, then sit down to a feast of Stan's stellar smoked and grilled meats and delectable sides.

Vintner John Buehler and his wife Valerie (one of our board members) will be on hand to spoil you with wines from the Buehler Vineyards portfolio. John is a fourth-generation farmer whose 300-acre vineyard and winery are perched near the base of Howell Mountain. The Buehler family's meticulous vineyard management and minimal winemaking techniques result in Cabernet Sauvignons and Zinfandels of uncommon complexity and depth—the perfect accompaniment to Stan's smoked and grilled foods.

Mentioning the perfect accompaniment, you'll also enjoy a live performance by farmer/singer/songwriter (and John Buehler's son-in-law) Sean Patrick Garvey's band Obsidian Son, whose songs deftly blend country, soul and Americana and provide the perfect backdrop to this exceptional evening.
